

WOMEN LEADERS FOR THE WORLD 2020

Elevating and Connecting Global Women Leaders

Become a Global Advisor

In 2020, in Nigeria, South Africa and the United States, we're bringing together women leaders who are tomorrow's Nobel Peace Prize winners, social change innovators and industry disruptors. Women Leaders for the World (WLW) is a transformative leadership training experience supported by a network of inspirational Global Advisors that help fellows expand their vision and accelerate their impact globally.

Why we need you

Leading change is exhilarating - but it can be lonely at the top. We know that when women leaders are supported by their own 'board of advisors' they can go farther and sustain their impact. That's where you come in. We're inviting the best and brightest 100 leaders in the business and not-for-profit sectors to join us as Global Advisors to our WLW fellows.

Your role

Becoming a Global Advisor is a powerful opportunity for you to leverage your expertise and propel ideas and solutions on a global scale. Our training fellows are women disruptors and innovators at the top of their game in tech, business, philanthropy, media, politics and social entrepreneurship. Each of our 20 fellows will be matched with Global Advisors for monthly phone calls for a year. Advisors and fellows will be matched according to expertise area and goals. You will impart knowledge, advice, and be a sounding board on strategic issues as well as connect fellows to new networks.

Make a lasting impact

As a Global Advisor, you'll get to shape a new set of women leaders, inspiring fellows to turn their big visions into action. You'll join an exclusive peer group of 100 Global Advisors who have the opportunity to connect with one another at intimate events during the year.

"WLW gave me life-long tools, a network of sisters and women leaders that I was able to collaborate with, and a life-changing experience. I was able to turn my idea into reality improving the lives of women in Morocco. "

- Manal Elattir, 2011 WLW Graduate,
Founder and CEO, ASILA
